

INTERESTING THE MOVIES

A long-range legislative study of state government, patterned after the successful "Hoover Commission" at Washington, is envisioned by some Republican legislative leaders. Loren Miller, research director, Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research and former aid to Governor Sigler, is favored for chairman. Governor Williams is cool to the idea, feeling that a state commission should be established, free from either legislative or executive office influences.

Frank Morris, Detroit Times Lansing correspondent, got an "exclusive" on this pipe-dream political conjecture: That Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg would like to make a deal with the Republican nominee for governor where Vandenberg would resign prior to the expiration of his term in 1932 and his son, Arthur Vandenberg, Jr., would be appointed to succeed him.

The big "catch" in this: Michigan voters are notoriously critical of suspected political deals. Such conniving could hardly be a political asset to the Republican nominee in a race against Governor Williams. It certainly would not add any luster to the record of Vandenberg as a statesman.

The resignation appointment idea recalls the deal among Republican aspirants for governor and lieutenant governor prior to the Republican primary in 1948. Running for governor was Sigler, Dr. Eugene C. Keyes and Judge Skillman. Candidates for lieutenant governor included Secretary of State Fred M. Alger and Keyes. On the promise that Keyes would run for governor, Judge Skillman withdrew. Then Alger pulled out, leaving Keyes without opposition.

What happened in November, 1948, is now political history. Dewey carried the state by 40,000 votes, while Sigler lost by 160,000. Evidently about 200,000 Republicans switched the ticket in protest against something. They elected G. Mennen Williams, governor of Michigan, for one thing.

Speaking of rumors, this one is very persistent. Dr. Keyes of Dearborn has a carefully mapped program to capture the Republican primary for governor in 1950. He is determined to win this time, come what may. He has financial backing already pledged for a vigorous state-wide contest. We picked up this information from a reliable source in the Thumb recently, and it tallies fully with existing knowledge. No pun intended, but watch Keyes.

Lansing newspaper correspondents seem to agree that Governor Williams' star has been ascending rapidly in recent months. "Don't write off Soapy Williams in 1950" their judgment, one year before election. This change of opinion is on the governor's success in his recent campaign with Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziehl and State Treasurer D. Hale.

Effective publicists adhere to the theory that one good story is worth two signed editorials. Since the perpetual quest to prevent the client's side in the news, one of the best propaganda ploys, however, are purely accidental—just lucky breaks. An

Grayling Indies To Play Harrison

The Grayling Independent Basketball team will open the 1949-50 season against Harrison here on Wednesday night, November 3, at the High School gym, it was announced by Myrton Burrows, team manager.

Grayling will again be a member in the Mid-State Independent Basketball League which will be made up this year of Roscommon, Harrison, Beaverton, Pinckney, Gladwin, Mio and probably Sterling as well as Grayling, Lake City, Houghton Lake and West Branch who were members of the league last year.

The Indies have already been practicing and look like they would floor another well rounded quintet. Regulars back from last year will include Ross and Sandy Thompson Ed Smith, Rog Giegling and Ted Bennett as well as Clyde Anthony, who was a sub last season. Last years regulars who are not playing this year are Pat Harwood, Carl Nielsen, Joe Bogart and Whitey Madsen.

The new president of the Mid-State League is Wilbur Raymond of Gladwin. Myrton Burrows of Grayling is vice-president, and Dr. Max Kelsey of Roscommon is the secretary-treasurer.

Seek State "Hoover Group"

A move toward a State "Hoover Commission" to streamline Michigan's government has been started by Governor G. Mennen Williams.

Such a commission, Governor Williams believes, should be of citizens of the highest integrity and ability from every section of Michigan's population, who, in their feelings, would speak directly for the people of Michigan, and would win widespread non-partisan support for its recommendations.

"Professor James Pollock of the University of Michigan, the only Michigan member of the Hoover Commission, advises that such a commission should be established by legislative act, giving it adequate powers and staff," the Governor continued.

"With the state having about 90 state departments, boards and commissions, we undoubtedly could effect some substantial savings of taxpayers' money by welding all of these into modern, well-organized functional groups, but we also could get far better results from the money we did spend."

"I believe that only when we approach the question as the federal government approached it, can we hope to get results; and I hope that the Legislature will give it favorable consideration when the time is ripe."

Five County Young People At Ferris

Young people from Grayling and the surrounding area are all expected home from Ferris Institute for the Thanksgiving vacation and are busy making plans for their fun and good times. The fall term at Ferris ends November 23, to give them plenty of time to reach home for their Thanksgiving dinner.

The winter term opens November 28, with classes starting November 29. Most of the young folks will re-enroll before leaving school November 23. News from Ferris is that Ferris, which becomes a state school next July, is right now having its greatest year in its history.

In all the various branches making up the college. And still more are expected to enter at the beginning of the winter term.

Almost all the young folks from Grayling at Ferris are in the College of Commerce. Miss Marjorie Ann Nelson, is taking accounting, Louis W. Smith, is also studying accounting and Fabian J. Charron is in the College of Commerce, all are freshmen, from Frederic is Shirley M. Corsaut, a junior in Commerce and working for a B.S. degree.

From Frederic in the Trades and Industry school is Guy S. Kellogg studying machine drafting.

Guard Opens Range For Rifle Practice

The Michigan National Guard, through arrangements with the Michigan Conservation Department, will open number one rifle range from 2 to 4 P. M. on November 13, and 14 for the use of deer hunters in practicing with their rifles.

County Table Toppers Elect New Officers

Ralph Froh of The Heights was elected president of the Roscommon-Crawford County Table Top Licensees' Congress at a meeting held Monday night at the Pioneer Hills Sports Park near here. He has been serving as acting chairman of the new Table Top unit during the period of organization and was recently appointed to serve on the state executive board.

Other officers and directors elected to serve the two county unit for the coming years are: Lawrence Hansen, Roscommon, vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Worden, Grayling, secretary; treasurer, and Woodrow Loughran, Roscommon; Robert Snyder, The Heights; Walter C. Wintnerham, Prudenville, and Percy Rodinger, Grayling, directors.

A membership drive was launched at the meeting at which each member was urged to sign one additional member during the coming month. It was decided that all future meetings would be held at places not licensed by the liquor commission.

Hold Services For Fay J. Murphy

Funeral services were held at the Sorenson Funeral Home at 2 P. M. on Monday for Fay J. Murphy, 35, of Frederic. Interment was at Oakwood Cemetery, Frederic.

Rev. Roy Newberry officiated at the services. Pallbearers were Kenneth Newberry, Ed Jungman, George Lodge, Kenneth Allen, Alan Leng and Arnold Kruger. Special music was furnished by Mrs. Roy Newberry and Mrs. Norval Stephan.

Fay J. Murphy was born on October 5, 1913 in Maple Forest, to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Murphy, who survive him. Also surviving are two sisters and one brother. The deceased had spent most of his life in this area with the exception of sometime when he was employed in the Upper Peninsula.

He was found dead in a car near Bass Lake last Friday afternoon. Death was attributed to a shotgun wound in the head. The unfortunate occurrence was investigated by Sheriff William Goinick and state police of the Gaylord Post. No inquest was held.

Seniors To Present "Good Night Ladies"

The Senior Class of 1950 is busy either learning parts, fixing props or doing many of the miscellaneous jobs so that they may present their play "Good Night Ladies" on November 10 at 8 P. M. in the High School Auditorium.

The play is produced by special arrangement with Row, Peterson & Co., Evanston and New York. It is directed by Mr. George Freer.

The cast consists of 12 characters with an understudy for each character so that the play will go on no matter what happens—we hope.

Sports Club Seeks Sign

At the regular monthly meeting of the Grayling Sportsmen's Club held at the Winter Sports Park last Friday night, it was decided to sponsor a two-way sign at the AuSable River to let tourists know they were crossing the world famous stream.

Vice-President George Bielski named a committee to work on the project chairmanned by Fred Bear. A long discussion was held on planning to place brush shelters for fish in Lake Margrethe this winter. It was explained that the State Conservation Department would furnish an instructor and pay the club $7 for each shelter placed in the lake.

Hold School Party On Halloween

Monday evening the school sponsored the annual Halloween party. Doors opened at 6:30. The first event of the evening was the cracker chewing contest. Winners from the third and fourth grades were Wesley Davis; fifth and sixth, Donald Akers and seventh and eighth Donald Owens. First prize went to Donald Owens, second to Wesley Davis and third to Donald Akers.

Next event was the apple on the string contest. Winners of this contest were Billie Weaver third and fourth grades; James Hatley, fifth and sixth; and Ronnie Nelson, seventh and eighth. First prize went to Ronnie Nelson, second to Billie Weaver, and third to James Hatley.

Following the apple eating contest came the dress parade. Winners in the first division, kindergarten to fourth grades, were: Gwen Davis, and Mickey Stillwagon, first prize; Mickey Lou Doremire, Kay Ann Thompson, second prize and Carolyn Prenzga, Deane Blanchard and Pamela Hunter, third prize. Second division included the fifth grade and up. First prize went to Tom Hatley, Jim Bishaw, James Klein and Richard Klein; second prize went to Judy Sorenson, Kay Ann LaMotte and Martha Stillwagon; third to Charles Keway, Nels Olson, Lloyd Crabtree, and James Dixon.

Movies and refreshments followed the contests. A good time was had by all.

Chamber to Elect New Directors

The Grayling Chamber of Commerce is planning an election of directors following the meeting held last Wednesday evening at which about 80 people voted overwhelmingly to continue the organization.

It was decided also to ask the membership to vote an amendment to the by-laws at the same time changing the number of directors from 10 to 15. It was felt that a large board would make the work easier for each one and would make for a more community-wide representation.

The ballot which will soon be in the mail to the members includes the names of 51 people as well as the amendment to the by-laws, both of which the member is asked to vote on and return.

The meeting Wednesday evening brought out a lot of new ideas and a lot of new faces in the civic organization meetings. Following the election of directors, new officers will be named and a program for the coming year will be mapped out and a budget set up.

County Library Shows Increase

Figures released by the Crawford County Library Board showed a good increase in number of books owned and the number circulated during the past two years as well as in the number of registered borrowers.

As of December, 1947, the library owned 1,097 fiction books and 594 non-fiction books, during 1948 the number of fiction books grew to 1,660 while non-fiction increased to 722. During the past year 160 more new books have been added to make the total number of volumes in the library 2,382.

During this year 427 books have been borrowed from the State Library for a year while an average of 108 volumes have been borrowed from them on a short term.

The library also subscribes to and has on hand the following magazines, Popular Mechanics, Newsweek, Life, American Girl, Story Parade, Pathfinder, Child's Life, Coronet, American Home, Sports Afield, Parent's Magazine, National Geographic and Ladies Home Journal.

During 1947, 544 registered borrowers took 6,137 books from the library while in 1948, 685 registered borrowers used 9,120 books. The Library Board is now attempting to have three-tenths of a mill spread on the county tax roll for the County Library's use. Due to new State Library regulations, if this is not done, the County Library will lose their aid from the state which amounts to about $700.

The library is according to state standard and are audited each year. They operate on a balanced budget whereby service can only be given according to income.

P. T. A. NEWS

The P. T. A. had a nice turnout for their meeting in spite of the fact that there were several other doings last Wednesday night. General business having been taken care of a brief report of the meeting was given by Mrs. Erwin Wales and Mrs. Fred Lamm.

A count was taken to determine which grade would receive the dollar. The eighth grade won with nine parents responding. Mrs. Yetter, Mrs. Ackers, Mrs. Lamm and Mrs. Wales were appointed to assist Mr. Lovely in making plans for a big party to be held some time early in December. This will be the only party of its kind that the P. T. A. will put on this year.

Ruth Decker, baritone solo accompanied by Tom Hilton on the piano, then Tom Hilton, trumpet accompanied by Ruth Decker at the piano made a very nice musical program. Football movies "The Big Ten" were also enjoyed.

A tasty lunch of home made donuts and coffee was served. Mrs. Ron Hanson, Mrs. Don Smock, Mrs. Wes Dunham, Mrs. Norman Madsen, Mrs. Matt Edson, Mrs. Russell Moshier, Mrs. Don Gothro, Mrs. Clara Sorenson, Mrs. Yetter and Mrs. Jerry Johnson were on the lunch committee.

Open house is to be held at the school house Tuesday, November 8. Everybody is invited.

Military Service For Wilbur H. Sterling

Military funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Sorenson Funeral Home for Wilbur H. Sterling, 35, who died at his home in Grayling early Sunday morning. Rev. Svend Holm officiated at the services and interment was in Elmwood Cemetery.

The deceased was born in St. Louis, Michigan on January 18, 1913 and leaves besides his widow, two young children. He was employed as an engine tender by the New York Central Railroad and before that had worked as a machinist at the Dore Manufacturing Company.

He was a veteran having served in the United States Navy during World War II and was a member of the Grayling Post 106, American Legion. He was an avid follower of bowling and had been a member of the Grayling Bowling League for many seasons, held a high average and was considered one of the best bowlers in the league.

His death was attributed to strangulation and an autopsy was held. Investigation of circumstances surrounding his death are being continued by Prosecutor Robert Neafie, Sheriff William Goinick, Chief of Police George Bielski and state troopers of the Houghton Lake Post.

He was discovered dead on the floor of a bedroom in his home by his wife about 4 o'clock last Sunday morning.

MRS. A. J. NELSON PASSES ON

Funeral services are to be held Thursday at 1:30 P. M. at the A. J. Nelson home and at 2 P. M. at the Grayling Evangelical Lutheran church for Mrs. A. J. Nelson.

Mrs. Nelson who had been failing in health since a recent operation passed away Monday night at Mercy Hospital. The family has the sincere sympathy of its many friends.

INFANT SUCCUMBS

Funeral services were held at St. Mary's Church Wednesday morning at 9:30 for James Henry Gugin, age six months. The Rev. Fr. John Breitenstein officiated and interment was in Elmwood Cemetery.

James was born on April 14, 1949 to Mr. and Mrs. John Gugin and passed away at Mercy Hospital on Monday, October 31, after a few days illness.

Surviving besides the parents, are three sisters, Margaret, June, and Elizabeth and three brothers, Gary, Charles and John. A sister, Rosemary, passed away last November.

Conservation Violators Assessed Fines, Costs

During the past two weeks, five violators of Conservation laws have been fined in the Justice Court here for a total of over a $175.00.

Homer Axford of Pontiac was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to the possession of a strung bow and a firearm in his car. He was fined by Justice Larry Galehouse who heard all four conservation cases. Axford was apprehended on October 11 by Conservation Officers Clarence Roberts and Russell Wright.

James Love of Grayling was fined $10 and costs of $7.60 after pleading guilty to carrying a loaded rifle in his car. He was arrested at 2:45 A. M., on October 16. Love was arrested by Conservation Officers Forrest Annis and Albert Gierke.

Andrew Nelson of Flint drew a fine of $25 plus costs after pleading guilty to possessing a strung bow on the Hanson Game Refuge. He was arrested at 3 A. M. Sunday morning by Conservation Officers Clarence Roberts and Russell Wright. He appeared before Justice Galehouse on Monday morning.

William Bielski and William Laurant, both of Grayling were fined $50 each and assessed costs of $9.85 each last Friday morning after pleading guilty to taking and attempting to take trout from that portion of the East Branch of the AuSable River dedicated to the raising of trout, namely the Grayling Fish Hatchery. Justice Galehouse added a 30 day jail sentence if the fines were not paid. The two men were arrested by Hatchery Superintendent Joseph Southwick and Regional Supervisor James Wilkinson.

BOWLERS OBSERVE HALLOWEEN

Tuesday evening, October 25 was celebrated as Halloween by the Womens Bowling League and the members arrived at Spike's Recreation in various get ups that brought forth a lot of laughs.

Vikings Lose Season Final To Harbor Springs Rams, 19-6

Game Closer Than Score Indicates

The Grayling High School Vikings lost the season's final game to the Harbor Springs Rams there last Friday afternoon by the score of 19 to 6.

The first three plays of the game resulted in fumbles with the Rams dropping on the ball twice and the Vikings once with the opponents recovering in each case. The game immediately tightened up for almost the entire quarter.

Near the end of the period, Harbor Springs moved to the Viking seven yard line from where they punched over for a score. The try for extra point failed. Harbor Springs 6, Grayling 0.

Harbor kicked off to Grayling and the Vikings were set with a sleeper play that appeared good for a lot of yards when the quarter ended and the teams changed ends of the field. This happened three times to Grayling during the game at the end of the first quarter, at the end of the third quarter and due to a fumble on the kickoff starting the second half.

During the second quarter some rugged defensive ball was displayed by both teams as neither was able to penetrate deeper than the 35 yard line of their opponent.

At the start of the second half, Don Millikin received the kickoff and returned it to bout the 20 yard line where he fumbled with the Rams taking over. A stubborn Viking defense held the Harbor Springs eleven in check, however, and Grayling again took over the ball. A series of plays advanced the ball to the 30 yard line, where the Rams intercepted a Viking aerial and nine plays later scored again, but, again missed the point after Harbor Springs 12, Grayling 0.

At the start of the fourth quarter the Vikings took to the air but the Rams intercepted again, but, failed to gain. Trudeau took the Ram punt and returned it to his 30 yard line. A strong side play was used to set up another sleeper play and Don Millikin pushed ahead 8 yards. On the following pass play, Skip Hanson kicked to mid-field after taking an aerial. The Vikings were pepped up and opened up big holes in the Rams line to let Fullback Bill Worden through.

Worden lived up to his all-conference reputation by smashing 50 yards to score in just three plays. He was hit three and four times on these plays, but, kept right on driving ahead for Grayling's lone touchdown. The extra point attempt failed by inches—Harbor Springs 12, Grayling 6.

The Vikings kicked off to Harbor Springs and after finally holding them on the 20 yard line took over the ball with but three minutes left in the game. With time running out, Grayling took to the air in an attempt to wrest victory out of the fray. The Rams intercepted a mis-directed pass and the Viking's hopes went glimmering. From the Viking 30 yard line, the Rams advanced to the 20 in two plays and fiery Viking guard Vic Papendick was taken from the game badly injured. With the spark plug of the line gone and victory almost impossible, the Vikings gave ground, three to five yards at a time and allowed Harbor to punch over for their third touchdown and an extra point as the game ended. Harbor Springs 19, Grayling 6.

The Vikings played good ball, but got several bad breaks that hurt their chances. Already weakened by the loss of two stars, the Vikings put up a stern battle and gave the Rams a stiff fight all the way. The game was rough and so was the field. The field was likened to a Grayling gravel street by the players.

Vic Papendick and End Ernie Miller playing their last grid games for the Vikings turned in outstanding performances. While the freshmen and sophomores who saw action during the contest looked very good.

An so another season ends and while the mole skins and helmets are packed away, the gear of the basketballs will be unpacked as another court season is about to open.

illustration of this overnight bounty was the news story from Tucson, Arizona, about bankruptcy proceedings on the El Siglo Apartments. If you jump to the conclusion that this column has become partisan, then scan this item: Governor Williams has changed strategy in his 1949 campaign for reelection. No longer does he try to put Republicans on the defensive for an anticipated $50,000,000 treasury deficit. Inflation's return to 1949 economy, plus a June 30 surplus of $24,357,130 in the state treasury have combined to scale down the expected deficit. Treasurer D. Hale Brake has even asked the governor to "repudiate" the percent corporation tax in view of the improved financial outlook.

The federal government's $5 billion deficit makes Michigan look like a piker. Even a $25,000,000 Lansing deficit by June 30 1950 would be peanuts by comparison. Who's worried about the big bad wolf, anyway? Not us chickens!

Our Gang

Our Gang met at the home of Mrs. Archie Kennedy last Thursday evening. Fifteen members responded to roll call. The guests were Mrs. Laurel Parker and Mrs. Cora Neal.

The refreshments committee for the next meeting will be Mrs. Russell Moshier, chairman; Mrs. Dewey Palmer, Mrs. Eugene Papendick and Mrs. Clarence Roberts. The birthday cake for November is to be furnished by Mrs. Alice Brown for the birthdays of Mrs. Eugene Papendick and Mrs. Carl Babbitt.

Readings were given by Mrs. Oscar Goss and Mrs. Barton Wakeley.

We pledged allegiance to the flag. Our hostess entertained with a game, then we enjoyed our usual games with prizes won by Mrs. Cora Neal, Mrs. Middle LaMotte, Mrs. Frank Serven. The penny prize was also given to Mrs. Neal. The next meeting will be November 9th, Wednesday evening at the Grange Hall with Mrs. Charles Keway hostess. Mrs. Barton Wakeley, Reporter.

Lovell's Notes

Mr. and Mrs. B. Wickham of East Tawas spent the week end with friends in Lovells.

A pleasant time was had at Mrs. Harold Johnsons last Thursday evening at a plastic party with Mrs. Vallad as the demonstrator.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carlson spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Kurchenko at their cabin on Shu-Pac. Pat and Margie Harwood, who had spent a few days as their guests at Hazel Park, returned home with them.

A farewell party was given at Les Jacksons last Tuesday evening for Charley Morley and Josephine, who left Saturday to spend the winter in Florida. Canasta was played by the guests, after which a delicious lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Horsell spent the week end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Munrow.

The J. Atkinson family moved to Harrison on Saturday, where Mr. Atkinson has purchased a farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Giles of Hazel Park were guests of the latter's parents, the Clarence Moores on Guthrie Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spaulding and the Piorce Spauldings have been in Midland, where the men have been building a home for the Colburn Spauldings of that city.

Michelson Memorial Church School Notes

Thirty-five members of the Youth Fellowship enjoyed the Halloween party last Saturday. The next social event planned for the group is a roller skating party in December. In the meantime, all intermediate and senior young people are invited to attend the regular Sunday evening meetings.

Little Johnny Cook was introduced to the Pre-school class Sunday. Billy Moshier, Kay Ann Thompson and Gary Dunham had perfect attendance records for the five Sundays in October. In the Primary Department, perfect attendance awards go to Arnold Stancil, Sandra Dunham, Joey Robertson and Kathy Thompson in the first grade; to Carol Fenton, Teddy Horning, Jerry Larson, Karen Macaulay, Mike Roberts and Anna Marie Stancil in the second grade; and to Christine Lutz, Oscar Horning, Jr. and Maryda Stillwagon in the third grade.

Mrs. Charles Cornwell taught in the sixth grade for Mrs. Ernest Larson who was ill. The sixth, seventh, ninth and senior classes all received honorable mention for perfect attendance, and the total attendance for the day broke all previous records. Carl Hatfield and Beatrice Kennedy in the eighth, and Derek McEvers, Audrey Wolcott and Ann Scriber in the ninth were long-absent members who were welcomed back by their classmates. John Robertson was congratulated on a recent birthday anniversary. Happy birthday was sung to Neddy Wiggins in the pre-school department who had celebrated his fourth birthday during October.

Wednesday, November 9, will be the regular meeting of the church school staff. Miss Doris Adams, assistant director of religious education of the Detroit Conference will be present to discuss the use of religious literature in the Sunday school. The business meeting will be followed by the annual social meeting of the staff.

C. A. P. NEWS

Lt. John Selesky, commanding officer and Lt. Wm. Johnson, adjutant, went to Detroit Saturday to pick up equipment for the squadron. Uniform shirts will be issued as soon as they are received. Lt. Robert Nichols lectured on instruments concerning aircraft, also different type motors.

Two more cadets were signed on at the last meeting. They are Randall Ebersol of Roscommon, and Dave Olson of Grayling. It has not yet been decided whether the boys came in hope of refreshments or interest in C. A. P. We think both.

The meeting went as scheduled except for Ted Lang's hic-ups. Next week the instruction topic will be engines. Refreshments are in order as well as demand. Plan to be there if you can.

Question: Does your A&P give you good food at low prices?

Answer: Yes. That is why millions of American families do all their food shopping at A&P.

Question: Is A&P a monopoly?

Answer: No. We do only a small share of the nation's food business—a smaller share than we did 10 years ago.

Question: Does A&P drive competitors out of business?

Answer: No. We have more competitors today than we had 10 years ago and many of our good competitors have publicly advertised their willingness and ability to compete with us.

Why, then, do the anti-trust lawyers want to put your A&P out of business?

Let's Do a Job

The meeting held last Wednesday evening at the Crawford County Court House proved that at least 80 people in Grayling were interested in their Chamber of Commerce.

During the next few weeks, all of us will be asked to join the Chamber for the coming year and to pay the year's dues. It is no more than right that you express your opinion at that time about the Chamber in such certain terms that there is no question on how you feel about the subject.

If you are in favor of the Chamber, pay your dues immediately and support the group in their activities. If you are not, it is only fair to let the Board of Directors know that you are not in harmony with their program.

Although about 80 people attended the Wednesday night (which is an excellent gathering in Grayling for anything) many were not former or present members of the Chamber and it was still foggy whether the potential 242 members of the area really wanted the group.

Another fact which was unavoidably noticed at the meeting was that a big share of those in attendance were newcomers to Grayling, ranging in residence from 5 years to as little as one month. Whether this is significant or not, we don't know. Let each one draw his own conclusions from the fact.

There can be no argument with the requests from the Board of Directors for more active support from the membership, more members from those in business in Grayling. As was said so long ago, "we must hang together or hang separately."

The opportunity for a re-birth of enthusiasm and a tremendous growth in the tourist business for Grayling, with the result of more prosperity for us all, is at hand. If it is missed it will be the fault of each and everyone of us. Don't be a "free rider" do your share, pay your share. Let's get together and do a job, a good job while we're at it.—R.W.S.

Hospital, Sunday evening.

Misses Mildred and Bernice Corwin of Lansing spent the week end visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Corwin and while here the latter entertained Clyde Foster, also of Lansing.

Mrs. Tracy Nelson entertained about fourteen young ladies last Thursday evening at a Halloween party. The decorations were ghosts, goblins, witches and all the Halloween family. The table was especially beautiful with favors that were a delight to the guests and the lunch was delicious. They enjoyed games and in the hat making contest Mrs. Hans Niederer won the prize. Mrs. Harold Millard (Hulda Swais) of Flint was the honor guest.

Parents of Grayling
Boys:

Good leadership for Scouting program is a responsibility of every community. The Scouting organization will help you have a troop in Grayling.

The citizens of Grayling must provide meeting place, leaders and a working committee.

The Summer Trails Council will help you with recruitment and training of leaders; courts of honor for recognition of achievement, and provide a summer camp which your boys may attend.

Your boys want Scouting. Your boys need Scouting. The great outdoors is not all of life. Boys need citizenship training, and the experience of group living which Scouting offers.

There is potential leadership in this town. We will show you how to find and train it. But, we must have the interested co-operation of a group of citizens, especially parents.

The Youth of your community is the greatest asset Grayling has. It should be developed in the best way possible. What are you going to do about it?

If we have replies from twenty interested people, we will be here to help with the organization of a troop. Write a penny post card to that made Buick Famous

If you want to know what's "the newest thing" in automobile engines, look at the Buick engine pictured here, and you'll see the words "valve-in-head."

But it happens that this isn't new with Buick. As a matter of fact, the valve-in-head engine was invented back in 1902—U.S. Patent No. 771095—and immediately, Buick adopted the principle, which became the first in a long string of "Buick firsts."

Not everyone went for the idea—then. In spite of the fact that this engine "breathes" more freely—gets fuel in and exhaust gases out more easily—others hung onto their pet ideas.

Then came the airplane, with its need for maximum power from every drop of fuel—and every maker of internal combustion airplane engines adopted the valve-in-head principle.

And more recently—with the hope that higher-octane fuels will become available—a lot of automotive engine designers are taking a new look at the valve-in-head idea.

But just for the record, we'd like to point out that Buick got there first.

And ever since, Buick has gone steadily ahead, building up a name as "valve-in-headquarters." Buick engineers reshaped pistons to put Fireball wallop in these engines. They stepped up compression ratios as fast as better fuels came along.

So perhaps you'll want to remember, when you hear the term "valve-in-head," that this is the type of power that made Buick famous.

If others want to climb on the bandwagon, we say "more power to them"—and no pun is intended.

But Buick has been doing more with valve-in-head right from the start.

And—we might add—it stands to reason that Buick is not through making this type of engine better and better.

Flash Of Brilliance

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

CONSIDERING the fact that the necklace was valued at $50,000 and it was not insured, Mrs. Holbrook should have been upset. The fact that she wasn't astonished even her husband, for her husband knew her for an emotional, excitable person.

"But, good lord, Bess! You might at least act concerned. I paid 50 grand for that rope. Maybe you think I'm made of money."

"That," said Mrs. Holbrook, "is the point."

"Point? What point?" Mr. Holbrook was becoming irritated.

"I mean," said Bess, "that I'm not the empty-headed, irresponsible person you think me. The diamond necklace wasn't stolen. I left it back in New York—in a safety deposit box."

"You what?"

"The jewels that were stolen were imitations. I wouldn't dream of wearing the originals without having them insured."

Mr. Holbrook's mouth fell open. "So you see," said Bess. It isn't as bad as it seems."

Rita Fenway, one of the guests, suddenly said: "But it doesn't alter the fact that there's a thief aboard. And that means we're all in danger of being robbed. And the cruise won't be over for another week."

"Of course," Mrs. Holbrook said. "And nothing could be more satisfactory. My dears, consider that we are to be on the high seas for a week. The criminal, whoever he is, will have to remain with us during that length of time. A week, my dears, will give our clever and efficient captain ample opportunity to apprehend the thief."

An hour after Mrs. Holbrook had demonstrated her hidden genius she excused herself from a group in the main lounge and unobtrusively descended to her cabin. After a moment she rang for the captain.

"Captain Talbert, my husband has undoubtedly told you about the theft and instructed you to apprehend the thief."

"Yes, ma'am. I have two of the crew making a search now."

"Instruct them to desist. It will not be necessary."

"But, Mrs. Holbrook, your husband said—"

"Never mind what my husband said. The necklace has been returned." She nodded toward a box on her dressing table.

"Returned? The imitations, you mean?"

"No. The real ones. Captain Talbert, I'm going to take you into my confidence. The story I told about the necklace being imitation was false. I've never worn false jewelry and I never shall. I merely told that story so that the thief would think his job worthless."

CAPTAIN TALBERT'S face lighted. "And then you spoke about apprehending the criminal by searching for the imitations so that the thief would return—"

"Exactly. The imitations weren't worth keeping, and in order to dispel the possibility of having them found in his possession he decided to return them. In doing so he unintentionally returned the originals—and spared me the unpleasantness of facing my husband alone."

Captain Talbert nodded understandingly. He knew what the word "alone" meant. He regarded Mrs. Holbrook with frank admiration. "Mrs. Holbrook, allow me to congratulate you, and please understand that you will have my fullest co-operation. After a reasonable length of time I'll announce that we have been unsuccessful in our search."

A moment later Captain Talbert went out. Left alone, Mrs. Holbrook sat down before her mirror. It had been a strain. A great strain. She sighed wearily. It was such a relief to feel that once more she could return to the role of the irresponsible spouse that her husband understood and expected.

TALL TIMBER TALES

BY PETE

If you were an Indian girl of only 17 with a baby less than six weeks old and had fled from your white husband—because he had tried to kill you and your baby—you would probably have been just as scared as Nika was when she heard the whisperings in the darkness outside her window and knew that he was still on her trail, and intended to finish the job because, to use a more modern phrase, "She knew too much."

You can reverse the thing by imagining you were a white girl completely surrounded by Indians under the same circumstances, at a time in Michigan's history when there was very little understanding between the Indians and whites. Her first instinct was wild joy because he was alive, that she had not killed her little one's father with the "long-knife" as she had supposed, but then she remembered that her husband was a killer, a thief and robber worse than any Indian the whiteman talked about.

That was when her blood turned to ice and she tiptoed across the pitch-dark cabin to where her new-found friends slept with their little fat white papoose between them. She had no thought that they might be able to help her, but she knew she had to flee again if she could get away, and thought she ought at least to say goodbye. Lightly she touched the white woman on the arm. "I go now," she whispered, "I bring much bad luck. My husband he come, he gonna kill me."

Then came the knocking on the door and Nika ran back to her blanket to get her papoose. The whiteman was on his feet pulling on his clothes, and the woman was lighting a lamp. "Who is it?" Dan Story shouted. "What'd ye want?"

"My man Joe," Nika cried springing to blow out the light, "he kill me now." "Like fun he will," Dan Story said, "he comes monkeying around here I'll stomp him right in the ground." There was a shot and he fell. The white woman screamed and tried to rush out but Nika pulled her back and fastened the door. Another shot came through the door and struck the woman in the back and she sank to the floor. "Take my baby Nika, run!" she cried as the Indian girl bent over her and tried to raise her up.

Nika knew there was no use, but it was the back door that saved her. As they were breaking down the front door she crammed the white papoose into her carrying basket beside her own little one, wrapped them in her blanket and became just another shadow among the tall pine trees outside. Never before had she been able to see the use of two doors in one cabin. She moved from tree to tree, like a wild animal pausing to listen for pursuit, and to scent the air ahead. Again Nika was a fugitive but with two babies now instead of one.

Next week—(Nika comes back to bury the Storys.)

Fall 'Bow Fishing

Proves Good

It may be hard to lure all but the more zealous fishermen to wet a line on nippy fall days, but the conservation department notes that good fishing reports from the few anglers out are more nearly the rule than the exception.

Latest creel reports identify Birch Lake, Cass County; Bear and Starvation Lakes, Kalkaska County; and Manistee River, Manistee County as rainbow "hotspots." While the few fishermen out are not getting any recordbreakers, they are reporting creditable catches of walleyes, northern and perch.

Rainbow trout are taking a variety of baits including flies, spinner-worm and spinner-minnow combinations. Trolling with small plugs and spoons are producing favorable results.

With water temperatures more uniform at this time of the year, fish range more freely near the surface. Water temperatures react slowly to changes in air temperature. Day fishing is good advice although some anglers still favor early morning and late evening hours in the fall. Irrespective of fall fishing hours, warmer clothing is in order. Some fishermen are utilizing hunting apparel.

Certain waters are open for taking rainbow trout only through November 30. They are listed in the fish law digest. Regular brook, brown and rainbow season is closed. Nearly 80 additional lakes and streams in 20 counties have been added for the special rainbow season and can be checked with the local conservation officer. Over half of the additional waters are in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula.

Heralds of Winter Appear in Sky

November offers the amateur astronomer an opportunity to study some ancient heralds of autumn storms and approaching winter.

Dr. Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, has called attention to two star-pictures visible in the eastern sky right after sunset during November. They are the Pleiades, a cluster of six stars in the form of a small dipper, and the "V" shaped Hyades.

"The appearance of the Pleiades in the ancient sky was a matter of great concern," Dr. Losh reports, "for when this group rose at sunset, men knew that winter was at hand."

The Hyades, with the ruddy star Aldebaran at the beginning of the "V," is below the Pleiades in the eastern sky. The left side of the "V" lies almost parallel to the horizon.

"From ancient times, the Hyades has been associated with the rainy season, perhaps because of the fact that the group rises in the evening in the fall of the year when one expects storms and bad weather," the Michigan astronomer says.

Two bright planets, Jupiter and Venus, dominates the southwest twilight. Jupiter which has the brightest planet in the night sky for months, now is suffering from the increasing brilliance

My Neighbors

By BILL PAULSON

"Our political leaders ought to give us another 'freedom'—Freedom from so darn much political leadership!"

Dr. Losh says Jupiter is now only one-sixth as bright as Venus, although its higher altitude makes it more favorable for observation. Venus, remaining low on the horizon, will continue to increase in brilliance until the latter part of December.

"The full moon of November 5 will be the popular Hunter's Moon, the designation of the first full moon following the Harvest Moon in October," Dr. Losh points out. "This moon has characteristics similar to the Harvest Moon and there will be moonlight in the early hours for several evenings in "My old truck was about ready for retirement, so when I heard of the big trade-in allowances my Ford Dealer was making, I decided to trade. If I had waited a few months longer, I would have $200 less for my old truck." —Ray Gish.

"In addition to a dandy allowance, I figure I made a fast $200 on a Ford Truck trade. Used truck prices were slipping so fast that in 90 days, the kind of truck I traded in was selling for $200 less." —Leonard Pabst.

"When I heard my Ford Dealer was making the best truck deals in town, I decided to check. I made up my mind on the spot. Used truck values have slipped in the last three months, so that I figure my fast action got me at least $175 extra on a Ford Truck trade." —Andrew Magd.

"When he topped the best previous offer by $100, my Ford Dealer proved he was making the best truck deals in town. But that isn't all! I figure I made another $150 by trading rather than waiting because used truck values were slipping so fast." —Gene Patterson.

Bar Committee on Legislation and Reform. The articles are objective in nature and do not attempt to comment on the relative worth of the legislative enactments but rather to present the most important facts and alert you to the changes these laws represent as they became effective on September 23, 1949.

The 1949 Michigan Legislature passed a number of bills representing progressive health legislation but went on record as opposing legislation for socialized medicine—although they did not with or pertaining to health.

By concurrent resolution adopted by both houses, the legislature memorialized congress against enactment of any legislation establishing socialized medicine.

The legislature thus went on record as favoring legislation designed to make health facilities available and yet keeping the responsibility thereof in the individual citizen and community.

One idea designed to improve health facilities for the residents of this state was contained in the capital outlay bill, S. B. 335, which is entered as Public Act 314.

While the bill failed to provide all the funds needed for construction of new buildings at the University of Michigan Medical School and at Michigan State College it did authorize the appropriation of certain sums to be used for the preparation of plans and specifications for the projected buildings.

The University at Ann Arbor received $100,000 of the $2,500,000 it had requested for an out-patient clinic on the medical school campus while Michigan State received $90,000 of a requested $2,265,000 for building a School of Veterinary Medicine.

The intent of this legislation was not only to provide more services for the public but more particularly to increase the facilities for the training of more doctors.

The children of the state were benefited by the passage of two laws: one relating to immunization, the other dealing with hearing problems. The immunization bill, S. B. 91 provides free immunization of children by county health departments in the event they cannot obtain inoculation from a practicing physician.

The hearing bill, S. B. 121 provides periodic hearing screening tests of school children under the direction of the state health commissioner. Due to the small amount of funds available activity under the law will be used to expand the experimental program already underway.

The payment of state funds for care of crippled children under the Crippled and Afflicted Children Act were increased under the provisions of Senate Bills 140 and 141. Payments under the new acts allowed a maximum of $12.00 per day for cases of acute care while convalescing treatment is reimbursable at the rate of $8.00 per day. Previously the maximums were $11 and $7 respectively.

The jurisdiction of Michigan's hospitals for the mentally ill was transferred from the State Hospital Commission to the Michigan Department of Mental Health through the provisions of Senate Bill 37.

Payments to the counties of Michigan for hospital care were changed somewhat by Senate Bill 106. Previously these payments were made after approval by the probate court in the county. This law transfers the authority for granting approval to the department of social welfare in the county.

Another bill, Senate Bill 239, provides for county departments of social welfare to collect funds from patients, legally responsible relatives or from the estates of persons who previously have received hospital care or other forms of relief from the county. These funds must be turned over by the departments of social welfare to the county treasurer for deposit to the fund from which these expenditures were originally made.

House Bill 46 treats the problem of instruction in sex hygiene by requiring that a program in the schools having to do with this type of education may be taught if it is supervised by a registered physician, a registered nurse, or by a person holding a teachers certificate and who is qualified as a supervisor in the field of sex education.

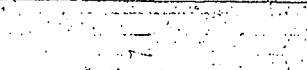

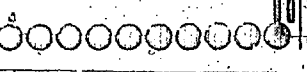

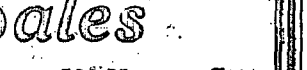

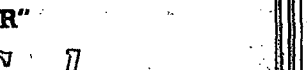

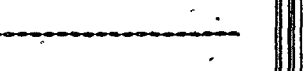

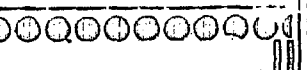

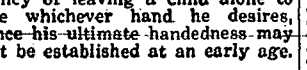

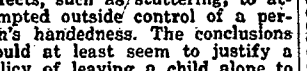

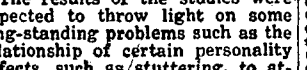

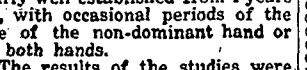

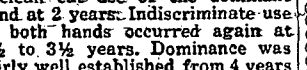

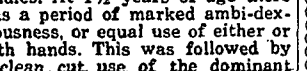

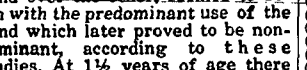

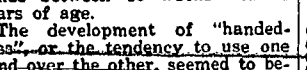

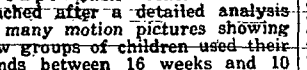

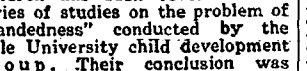

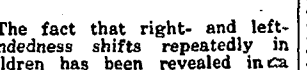

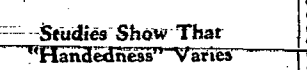

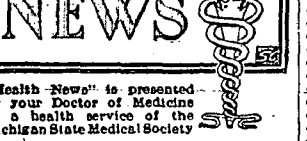

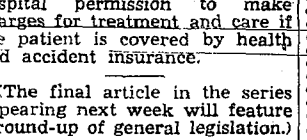

Aid for small communities in quest of hospitals and clinics is contained in the provisions of House Bill 117 which now allows two or more cities, townships or incorporated villages to unite in establishing a hospital authority for planning, promoting and constructing a community hospital.

The bill also authorizes this commission to levy taxes and issue bonds for the construction of a hospital.

By another bill the provision exempting transfers to foundations exclusively for benevolent, charitable or educational purposes from the payment of inheritance tax was clarified and somewhat amplified.

The final act passed in the 1949 Legislature relating to health granted the resident staff personnel at the University of Michigan hospital permission to make charges for treatment and care if the patient is covered by health and accident insurance.

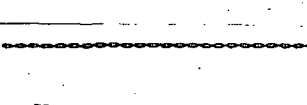

(The final article in the series appearing next week will feature a round-up of general legislation.)
